Headline:
Patchy rain clearing to sunny spells. Brisk, chilly winds.

Today:
A mostly cloudy start with some patchy rain. However, this should soon clear to leave a largely dry day with long spells of sunshine, although the odd shower is possible in the afternoon. Feeling rather chilly with brisk northeasterly winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Broken cloud will produce a few showers overnight. These most likely in the west, with some eastern parts largely dry. Feeling cold with streghtening westerly winds, particularly over high ground. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Friday:
A breezy start, but winds steadily easing through the morning. Some sunny spells but generally it will be rather cloudy with scattered showers. These gradually dying away through the evening. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Saturday, dry and bright, but increasingly cloudy and breezy. Rather cloudy Sunday with patchy rain slowly clearing to sunny spells and blustery showers. Sunny spells and scattered showers continuing Monday.
